
QAvalid™ will help Germany's Statconsult better manage data throughout their projects.

Clarmon Corporation announced that it will provide its QAvalid solution to German company Statconsult. Statconsult has more than 15 years of experience in Biometrics and Data Management and will be using QAvalid mainly to improve Quality Assurance Activities.

QAvalid is fully integrated with Microsoft Word™ and allows its users to work in a familiar way while providing all the benefits of a centrally controlled application.

Linking related documents to specific regulations and controlling content from creation and approval through to ongoing usage guarantees an automatic audit trail to prove full regulatory compliance.
